Take a successful franchise available, Lego fy all the characters, take them to levels that explore key points in the history of the series, and voila another Lego game. I don't even know how many people we've had since Lego: Star Wars hit the stage for the first time, but it's too much. And actually, I don't even know the last person I've played. I checked code for Lego Batman 3 last year and it still sits in my steam library, not broadcast. i just couldnt . That may change the world with Lego Jurassic.... He'll find a Lego game that's very clear from the demo I saw last week at the GDC. There are blocked renditions of all his favorite characters, including sleazy Dr. Ian Malcolm and way too serious Dr. Grant.The game still straddles that Pixar's line of family-friendly fare with only a hint of edginess to appeal to adults. Playing as Dr. Ellie Satler, for example, you dive head-out into a pile of Dino Pope many times while trying to solve what's wrong with triceratops- the iconic Jurassic Park scene, but a tweak for that Lego humor. Other scenes are treated similarly. Terrifying t-rack can be distracted by massive squeaky dog bones. Dr. Grant hacked through the foliage with his trusty Raptor claws. Jeff Goldblum flashes to the camera because he's a reptile. There's even a Lego version of Mr. DNA, because of course he's... Well, it's a Lego game. The game will take place across all four films (including this summer) and there are five levels per film. Great, now that boring things are out of the way. Dinosaur. Fights. Collision of Right: Lego Jurassic World lets you pit dinosaurs against each other. Or take control of a dinosaur and fight other dinosaurs. It's like a giant prehistoric PETA nightmare. It's as if you were Michael Wick caveman (although cavemen didn't exist at the same time as dinosaurs). Each level is a piece of amber hidden somewhere. It's very par-for-the-course as far as lego games go. There are always hidden collectors all over the place. These amber patches let you unlock the dinosaurs though. All twenty people are available in the hub world, where you can, I repeat, fight dinosaurs with each other. If you're standing now while reading this, banging your fist into your chest and screaming excitedly, well you're dead for me. I literally don't know what else stupid thing I can say to make you more excited than you should be right now. Oh, maybe you can get smaller dinosaurs into the campaign. You can play Jurassic World as a velociraptor! Want to know how it feels to reread key Jurassic Park scenes as a velociraptor? Because I'm sure like hell, so yes, the Lego Jurassic world is just another in a long string of Lego games, and that's how I was initially prepared to write this story. At this point, as I said, it's a genre. You're unlikely to play these because you only like Lego games. - They're almost the same. and i like jurassic park , and i like dinosaurs . And I'd like you to fight dinosaurs. No court in the world (or at least no second-rate court) would have convicted me for eagerly awaiting this one.
